Do atonement theologies that focus on Jesus' death underwrite human violence? If so, we do well to rethink beliefs that this death is necessary to bring salvation. Focusing on the Bible's salvation story, Instead of Atonement argues for a logic of mercy to replace Christianity's traditional logic of retribution. The book traces the Bible's main salvation story through God's liberating acts ...

1.3 Peace of a Just and Tranquil Order. Opposed to peace as modus vivendi is what Aron calls, "peace by satisfaction" (Aron 1966, 160 ff). This is a peace that results from a lack of grievances and hostility. In the history of the West, this sort of peace is often linked to what Augustine called the "tranquility of order" (Augustine 1958, Book 19, Chapter 13) In recent Western thought ...

A Pacifist Way of Knowing compiles some of Yoder's most important essays on pacifism and epistemology to present the beginnings of a pacifist theory of knowledge. Additionally, Yoder explores Karl Barth's view of Christianity and war in another book of essays, and lastly—in an updated edition of To Hear the Word —provides insight into his approach to biblical interpretation.

Our understanding of biblical peace is based on the unequivocal declaration that Jesus Christ is the center of life and reality, and that Christ brings the whole creation intact! PBCI community-resourcing services services and peace-building ministries do not separate Jesus and Peace. They both demonstrate and proclaim the Prince of Shalom through actions and words. PBCI community-resourcing s

In January I took a class at Semilla, an Anabaptist seminary in Guatemala—Peace and Justice: Latin American Perspectives. In describing the course to a friend on Facebook, I used the phrase, "peace theology." He asked what I meant by this, and since Facebook is an insufficient platform for life's more persistent questions, I posted the following thoughts on my blog to clarify.

The Bible uses "peace" in two ways. There is personal peace with God which comes when a person accepts Jesus Christ as Saviour. Then, there is the peace of God which is available on a daily basis as the believer participates in the Christian way of life according to the Plan of God. So, where you find peace mentioned in the Bible it refers either to the reconciliation of a Christian in ...
