Caroline was born with the question "Why?" in her mouth and drove all her teachers crazy trying to find the answers. Unable to get satisfaction and to escape what seemed like mental torture, Caroline became totally physical by joining the Canadian military in 1967 as a Physical Education and Recreation Instructor. Pushing herself physically suppressed her mental body for a short period of time. Although excelling in all that she did, the pull of the "Why?" did not die, it just became ...

Ask yourself one simple question: What would love do? My experience. A couple of years ago, I was in a coming to an end in a relationship. I, however, was not really ready to let go, as I clung on to love. At the time, I felt I needed to have a partner in order to feel loved or lovable. I needed that external approval. I needed him, his reassurance that everything would be ok. However, deep ...

Caroline was literally born singing into a musical family. Some of her earliest performances were at her mother's Musical Evenings with the local Operatic Society. She was active as a singer all throughout her childhood and University years, writing her own socio/political songs as she travelled in the Middle East. After graduation she began perfecting her singing technique in London with ...

Carol, directed by Todd Haynes, starring Cate Blanchett as Carol and Rooney Mara as Therese, is a story of love. More deeply, though, Carol is a story about why we're drawn to love a certain person. In each attraction, something missing is sensed and desired in the other. Love can bring us to ourselves in a way nothing else can – if we're open to both the questions and the answers.

There are various Carolines around the world who think the song is about them, but the titular Caroline wasn't a real person. The name was in the musical landscape thanks to the Neil Diamond song "Sweet Caroline," which was a UK hit in 1971. In our interview with Francis Rossi, he said: "We'd heard that around, and it was quite a nice phrase. Bob [Young] did know a Caroline, which I mustn't talk ...

A Song for Caroline is a rhyming magazine story, dedicated to Caroline. Caroline is an old, red car who likes to take it slow, but is prone to overheating. She is still very useful, however, when she gets Sir Topham Hatt to the Town Hall despite lots of delays. She loves to have picnics where she can rest for a while before going on her way. The vicar likes Caroline, too, and always invites ...

But, we are told, there are "two Carolines", the "home Caroline" and the "school Caroline." At home, it seems, Caroline is quite cross. But at school, she radiates kindness and joy-- probably, as the story suggests, because "she loved her teacher more than she did even her own Mother." This points to trouble at home for Caroline, and one can only hope the teacher will intervene and contact the ...
